Fort Myers, Florida – June 19, 2008 –

What is a successful method for doubling, even tripling your customer base?

How can tap into those lucrative international markets?

Do you know how easy it can be to add additional languages to your web site?

Today, Internet Services Group of Florida, LLC, is happy to announce the addition of multiple language support to its easy-to-use Content Management Software, called the ISG Content Manager. The ISG Content Manager offers you the ability to edit your web site's content, anytime, anywhere from a password protected web page.

The addition of multiple language support means your web site can have Spanish, German, Italian, and French versions as well.

Charly Caldwell II, President of Internet Services Group of Florida, LLC says:

“We're really excited about offering this as part of our total web development package. It not only helps our existing customers tap into the lucrative international market, but it allows web searchers from those countries to index their native language content – driving more traffic to our customers web sites as well!”

Charly mentioned that his company is currently testing the ability to add any language, based on any character set, and is shooting for 1st Quarter 2009 for debut.

The multiple language ability will be part of Internet Services Group's national Web Starter Kit, which is set to debut in August.

Complete information on their new multiple languages option, and the Web Starter Kit can be found on the company's web site.
